DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 63-68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter as follows. The specification [0080] discloses one or more computer-readable medium storage media having computer-executable instructions stored thereon is a carrier wave.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 23, 25-29, and 69-74 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the cited prior art does not teach a diffusion engine for applying a reversible diffusion function for reducing the magnitude of at least some of the pixel values and for reducing variability in the difference between adjacent pixel values in a subject matrix by diffusing magnitudes of pixel values into each other to thereby reduce noise associated with application of a frequency domain transform and application of an inverse frequency domain transform, wherein an anchor value facilitates reverse diffusion by the reversible diffusion function; and an anchor value selector associated with the diffusion engine to select one of the pixel values in a given matrix as the anchor value, wherein the anchor value provides for applying a facilitates the reverse diffusion by the reversible diffusion function to restore the magnitude of the at least some of the pixel values after application of the frequency domain transform to the diffused pixel values and application of the inverse frequency domain transform to recover the diffused pixel values.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
